PLAN OF FORD TOWARD PEACE ROLLS BRITAIN

AMERICANS ABROAD SAY EX-
PEDITION OF PACIFICISTS
WILL MEET RIDICULE

London, Nov. 27.—Henry Ford's peace plan has greatly upset many members of the American colony who say it will only bring ridicule on America in Europe and have an unfortunate effect on American business enterprises.

One well known English peace expert, strongly condemned the idea, saying: "It is most ill advised, especially as great feeling already has been aroused here against Ford because the British people don't care to have things crammed down their throats by Americans or perhaps any other nationality. Americans would feel resentment if we tried to do the same thing to them."

Urges Joining English People.
"Those Americans who want to further the cause of peace could do the most good by consulting with those interested in peace in this country, who will let them know what is best to do."
